

Cham counts:

Summary of Ky news:

- Calm of last 6 months; partially "lapses," but

a) Brutal suppression of Buddhists, struggle

b) Efficing of police (at least, vs. non-Communists)

- Make Ky usins: have acting PM.

- No one now speaks for Army, unifies Army.

here, 2/ No camps, without US support

b) No "split" between Thien, Ky factions

(will lead to open criticism of both, discredit both)

Might be new honest election; Ky still win. (E.g.

personal staff: Wan, Dai, Dep to Tai). No fighting:

"WB"

Cham: Viet Cong - Pake

Rw, Wan, Totoktan

VN Hearings

[US News & World Report]

"If election is honest...

But if Ky wins...."

- If T & K both run, would into fight?

"Who would fight, for either Thien or Ky? Who supports either? Who comes? VNAF? 5th Div?"

"Both Ho and Westmoreland want to see Ky elected." * [^{asked} Westy told Thien to drop out: Thien to choose]

(~~if~~ If Ho could pick his candidate...)
(Ky among the top)

If Ky runs, he wins.

(Ky on TV, news: he raises wage for soldiers; "US has provided 5 billion p's for this" — implies US supports)

Ky: If a bad (saw/ civilian is elected, he would fight to the end (Translated in English, a "neutralist or Communist").

Mr. Hiep, (Dang Van Lung agrees): Conflict is not between Sun, Hung, Ky, etc., but between all of them and Ho Chi Minh.

C: "Any support is not such a big factor; Ky's power is as P.M., not as "Any candidate." Anyways, captains, Gen. cadres, would not all back given candidate.

- Ky Vice - President, under Hung.
Bitter, Thieu